About USFSP's Student Sexual Harassment and Violence policy: Following national guidance from the Office of Civil Rights, the USFSP policy requires that faculty follow USF policy as a "mandatory reporter" of any personal disclosure of sexual harassment, abuse, and/or violence related experiences or incidents shared with the faculty member in person, via email, and/or in classroom papers or homework exercises. These disclosures include but are not limited to reports of personal relational abuse, relational/domestic violence, and stalking. While faculty are often able to help students locate appropriate channels of assistance on campus (e.g., see the USFSP Health and Wellness link below), disclosure by the student to the faculty member requires that the faculty member inform appropriate USF channels to help ensure that the student's safety and welfare is being addressed, even if the student requests that the disclosure not be shared.

For counseling support and assistance, please see the USFSP Wellness Center, which includes a variety of counseling services that can be accessed at: http://www.usfsp.edu/wellness/
