Why Study Finance at USF?

Broad Business Background

USF is a CFA-affiliated university that offers a broad-based, analytical program, providing a solid business background for students seeking careers in a variety of industries. Our graduates work for firms such as Sachs, JPMorganChase, MetLife, Morgan Stanley, Raymond James Financial, T. Rowe Price, and more.

In the classroom, students prepare with hands on training in our Bloomberg labs, a powerful resource providing real-time data from markets around the world, in addition to news, research, and powerful analytics used by top decision-makers in finance, business, and government.

Finance Concentrations and Minor Programs

Concentrations: This degree offers concentrations in investment analysis, fintech, corporate finance, and real estate.

Minors: Business students can choose to minor in finance. There is also a minor in real estate for business or non-business students.
