

THE UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME

Notre Dame, Indiana 46556-0001

Phone: (317) 555-7000 Fax: (317) 555-7000

Notre Dame, Indiana 46556-0001

purpose of this research is to demonstrate the effectiveness of the program in reducing the number of students who are referred to the special education process. The results of this research will be used to inform the development of future research and to guide the implementation of the program in other schools.

The results of this research will be used to inform the development of future research and to guide the implementation of the program in other schools. The results of this research will be used to inform the development of future research and to guide the implementation of the program in other schools.

The results of this research will be used to inform the development of future research and to guide the implementation of the program in other schools. The results of this research will be used to inform the development of future research and to guide the implementation of the program in other schools.

The results of this research will be used to inform the development of future research and to guide the implementation of the program in other schools. The results of this research will be used to inform the development of future research and to guide the implementation of the program in other schools.

The results of this research will be used to inform the development of future research and to guide the implementation of the program in other schools. The results of this research will be used to inform the development of future research and to guide the implementation of the program in other schools.