

Susan Glickman - bio

Nominee for the inaugural list of 500 Most Influential Business Leaders, Susan Glickman is a communications expert who has spent a lifetime advancing a diverse set of public interest issues from civil rights to campaign finance reform. Susan brings a broad set of skills to the art of communicating complex topics to the media, the public and policy-makers. She excels at message development and has a long history working with top journalists both on the news and editorial side.

Susan, a Florida native, has